Gary Pinina came into my life on the 13th of September, 2008. The hurricane had destroyed a large part of my house, my husband was in the hospital, and I was distraught. When he came, he said that he had never seen such bad damage, but that he would take care of it – and that is just what he did.

He did not just bring in an excellent crew to do the job properly – he was there, he cared, he was fair and honest; and being a woman on my own, it was exactly what I needed. My husband died in January, and it has been a very hard experience. I do not know what I would-have done without Gary.

He took care of everything – the insurance people, the adjuster, and he was always there for me. I can highly recommend him: Honest, ethical, and caring people are very hard to find. My home looks beautiful. He did an excellent job which he can truly be proud of.

You may call me if you have any questions.

Sincerely,
